AGENCY FUNCTION AND RECORDS SUMMARY

County Coroner

Agency Function and Recordkeeping Requirements

In Kentucky, the Office of Coroner was elective under the first state Constitution. However, under the second Constitution (1799) the governor was allowed to appoint the coroner. In 1850 the coroner's office was again made elective. Section 99 of Kentucky's present Constitution establishes the Office of Coroner as a constitutional county office. Coroners and their deputies have the full power and authority of peace officers, including the power of arrest, the power to bear arms and to administer oaths. In performing investigation, the coroner or his deputy may enter onto public or private property, seize evidence, interrogate persons, and require the production of medical records, documents, or evidence. He may impound vehicles involved in fatal accidents. The principal duties of the coroner are to; determine the cause of death, order autopsies, hold inquests, complete death certificates, and attempt to locate next of kin. In unnatural deaths, a coroner's case is opened and maintained in the office along with any evidential material.

This coroner's retention schedule takes the place of the one completed for the 1976 county model.
